Types of Embossing Powders

Clear Powders

Smooth, crisp, transparent finishes. Everyone has seen the gloss, but have you tried the Clear Matt?

Metalline Powders

Strong, opaque, lustrous finishes. These powders give a very impressive pearly colour.

Opaque Primary Powders

Deep, bold, strong finishes. As they are opaque they show their true colour over dark cardstock.

Opaque Pastel Powders

Subtle, gloss, opaque finishes. These powders will cover everything under them and the finished colour will never change.

Fluorescent Powders

Bright, loud, vibrant powders. Summer party time...

Embossing Glitter Powders

Not subtle at all! Loud, sparkly 'notice me' powders that demand your attention.

Metallic Powders

Shiny, reflective, opaque, magical metallic finishes. Check out Platnum. It's a great alternative to Metallic Silver.

Primary Powders

Smooth, glossy, basic colour finishes. Melt with Melt-It! and cast in a mould to make jewellery or embellishments with a translucent crystal clarity.

Opaque Powders

As white is not always white we have two different shades. Check out our Bright White- it really is the brightest white in the business!

Special Effect Powder

A transparent powder that actually glows in the dark! Always use over a white background.

Glintz Powders

Subtle shimmering shades of mixed golds and silvers, with a somewhat pearly effect.

Pearlescent Powders

Iridescent, colour shifting finishes. The effect changes over different colours. The subtlest is over white and the strongest over black.

Earthtone Powders

Subtle, rustic, opaque, homely finishes. These powders are opaque and have a rough textured finish.

Colour Blend Powders

The designers imagine it- we create it! Check out what our incredibly talented designers have been cooking up!

Puff Powders

Opaque, bobbly, textured powder. They can be used on flexible surfaces such as textiles (gentle hand washing is recommended).

Mixed Media Powders

Designed to be different with depth and texture. Push the boundaries of your imagination.

Grade Sizes

Regular R

This is our standard grade. The particles are made the correct size to suit most applications.

Superfine SF

When the Regular grade powder overflows the edge of a line or a character a Superfine or “Detail” powder is required to give a crisp image. It will not give the highest raise but on a thin line it will feel just as high as the regular product.

Ultra High UH

This grade is a very chunky product. It is used for the triple Embossing Technique and when a large area is to be embossed. It will give a high raise but can't be used with regular details and bumps.

Mixed Particle Size X

This grade doesn't have a uniform particle size and will be a mix of any of the above grades.

Duo, Trio and Quad Sets *

An asterisk * marked next to the swatch name indicates that it is part of a Duo, Trio or Quad jar set.

Powder Properties

Translucent (T)

These powders will allow light through them and so the colour under them will affect the finished result.

Opaque (O)

These powders will not let light through and so when embossing they will not be affected by the colour under them.

Speckled Opaque (SO)

These powders will have random large size opaque particles in their make up which will not mix and flow when molten giving fabulous speckles unaffected by the base or substrate colour.

Marbling (M)

These powders have a white base and so when moulding the white will appear producing some fantastic marble effects.

We make our powder with either a translucent or a white raw material. The different bases have different properties which make it possible to achieve all the wonderful effects. Some colour swatches will have multiple properties next to their name.

Please note that the printed images in this document can only give a rough impression of each powder's wonderful statement of colour and texture when melted.
